

The Jungle Times

Volume I, Issue IX

Auburn Tigers vs Georgia Bulldogs – March 7, 2015

Georgia (19-10, 10-7 SEC) is coming off a narrow loss against Kentucky where they led for a large portion of the second half. Georgia will most likely come in looking to make up for it and solidify their case as a NCAA tournament team.

Auburn (12-18, 4-13 SEC) lost on the road against Missouri on a shot in the final seconds. Auburn looks to get the season sweep against Georgia after defeating them in Athens on February 14th. A win today would be a huge victory for the seniors.

Series History

Auburn won the first ever matchup in 1908, 34-20.

Auburn is tied with Georgia in the all-time series, 90-90.

Auburn is currently on a 2 game winning streak against Georgia.

Auburn won the last meeting 69-68 on February 14, 2015.

BASKETBALL 101:

POSTSEASON TOURNAMENTS

At the end of the regular season, almost all Division I teams take part in a conference tournament seeded based on their work that season. After conference tournaments, there are four national tournaments. There is the most important NCAA Tournament, then the National Invitation Tournament (NIT), College Basketball Invitational (CBI), and lastly the CollegeInsider.com Postseason Tournament (CIT). A committee chooses teams for each of these tournaments based on the body of work that year.

Fun Facts

Remember as you heckle, try to be creative and disruptive, but please refrain from foul language.*

#4 Charles Mann – top 3 favorite movies are Friday, Friday Night Lights, and Next Friday. I wonder what is his favorite day of the week?

#12 Kenny Gaines – his favorite website is World Star Hip Hop, his teammates describe him as “Swagatistical,” and he really enjoys eating ice.

#42 Nemanja Djuriscic – describes himself as “cute” but his father is the exact opposite of that. His most prized possession is his high school diploma.

#2 Marcus Thornton – enjoys taking selfies on his iPad. Shares a birthday with Charles Mann and is exactly 2 years older. His favorite website is also World Star Hip Hop.

#30 J.J. Frazier – his entire Twitter account is dedicated to one class he took last spring that he claims is the “best class ever” and you can check out his horribly written blog at jayfrazier30.wordpress.com. Really, it’s terrible.

The Jungle Times

Volume I, Issue IX

Auburn Tigers vs Georgia Bulldogs – March 7, 2015

Georgia (19-10, 10-7 SEC) is coming off a narrow loss against Kentucky where they led for a large portion of the second half. Georgia will most likely come in looking to make up for it and solidify their case as a NCAA tournament team.

Auburn (12-18, 4-13 SEC) lost on the road against Missouri on a shot in the final seconds. Auburn looks to get the season sweep against Georgia after defeating them in Athens on February 14th. A win today would be a huge victory for the seniors.

Series History

Auburn won the first ever matchup in 1908, 34-20.

Auburn is tied with Georgia in the all-time series, 90-90.

Auburn is currently on a 2 game winning streak against Georgia.

Auburn won the last meeting 69-68 on February 14, 2015.

BASKETBALL 101:

POSTSEASON TOURNAMENTS

At the end of the regular season, almost all Division I teams take part in a conference tournament seeded based on their work that season. After conference tournaments, there are four national tournaments. There is the most important NCAA Tournament, then the National Invitation Tournament (NIT), College Basketball Invitational (CBI), and lastly the CollegeInsider.com Postseason Tournament (CIT). A committee chooses teams for each of these tournaments based on the body of work that year.

Fun Facts

Remember as you heckle, try to be creative and disruptive, but please refrain from foul language.*

#4 Charles Mann – top 3 favorite movies are Friday, Friday Night Lights, and Next Friday. I wonder what is his favorite day of the week?

#12 Kenny Gaines – his favorite website is World Star Hip Hop, his teammates describe him as “Swagatistical,” and he really enjoys eating ice.

#42 Nemanja Djuriscic – describes himself as “cute” but his father is the exact opposite of that. His most prized possession is his high school diploma.

#2 Marcus Thornton – enjoys taking selfies on his iPad. Shares a birthday with Charles Mann and is exactly 2 years older. His favorite website is also World Star Hip Hop.

#30 J.J. Frazier – his entire Twitter account is dedicated to one class he took last spring that he claims is the “best class ever” and you can check out his horribly written blog at jayfrazier30.wordpress.com. Really, it’s terrible.

GENERAL CHEERS

Offense – Basically, follow the lead of the cheerleaders, pep band, and the student Jungle leaders. When the shot clock gets to 10, start counting down to help the team out.

Defense – Start with cheers like “Defense, defense!” or “D-up, D-up!” then when in doubt just make lots of noise. When the shot clock gets to 10, start counting down from 5 to mess up the other team.

SITUATIONAL CHEERS

Jungle Banner – After our team is introduced, and after the hype video, when the lights come back on, the Jungle Banner will go up and you should chant, “Fear the Jungle!” over and over. This should try to keep going until tip off.

Opposing player shoots an air ball – Shout “Airrr ball! Airrr ball!” at the player while pointing at him in a chopping motion. Continue to harass him like this every time they touch the ball.

Opposing player commits a foul – Shout “You can’t do that!” over and over again. Stop if our player is at the line for free throws.

Auburn is shooting free throws – Raise your arms before the shot, and on a made basket clap your hands twice and yell “A-U!” while making the shapes of the letters with your arms.

Opposing player fouls out – As the player walks to the bench, shout “Step! Step!” for every step. When he sits down, shout “Sit down!” DON’T shout if we’re shooting free throws so we don’t distract our own players.

SEC TOURNAMENT TICKETS

Student tickets for the Men’s Basketball SEC Tournament are available for $10/game and have been allotted 56 tickets/game. You can reserve tickets at auburtigers.com/jungle but they must be purchased and picked up at Bridgestone Arena.

MARCH MADNESS TOURNAMENT CHALLENGE

Join other members of The Jungle and compete in our bracket challenge. To join, create a bracket through ESPN’s Tournament Challenge, and look for the group named “The Auburn Jungle.” We hope to have a fun, competitive group, so join soon!

The goal of the Auburn Jungle is to be loud and obnoxious for opposing teams at all times, but to remain appropriate and respectable before, during, and after the game.

GENERAL CHEERS

Offense – Basically, follow the lead of the cheerleaders, pep band, and the student Jungle leaders. When the shot clock gets to 10, start counting down to help the team out.

Defense – Start with cheers like “Defense, defense!” or “D-up, D-up!” then when in doubt just make lots of noise. When the shot clock gets to 10, start counting down from 5 to mess up the other team.

SITUATIONAL CHEERS

Jungle Banner – After our team is introduced, and after the hype video, when the lights come back on, the Jungle Banner will go up and you should chant, “Fear the Jungle!” over and over. This should try to keep going until tip off.

Opposing player shoots an air ball – Shout “Airrr ball! Airrr ball!” at the player while pointing at him in a chopping motion. Continue to harass him like this every time they touch the ball.

Opposing player commits a foul – Shout “You can’t do that!” over and over again. Stop if our player is at the line for free throws.

Auburn is shooting free throws – Raise your arms before the shot, and on a made basket clap your hands twice and yell “A-U!” while making the shapes of the letters with your arms.

Opposing player fouls out – As the player walks to the bench, shout “Step! Step!” for every step. When he sits down, shout “Sit down!” DON’T shout if we’re shooting free throws so we don’t distract our own players.

SEC TOURNAMENT TICKETS

Student tickets for the Men’s Basketball SEC Tournament are available for $10/game and have been allotted 56 tickets/game. You can reserve tickets at auburtigers.com/jungle but they must be purchased and picked up at Bridgestone Arena.

MARCH MADNESS TOURNAMENT CHALLENGE

Join other members of The Jungle and compete in our bracket challenge. To join, create a bracket through ESPN’s Tournament Challenge, and look for the group named “The Auburn Jungle.” We hope to have a fun, competitive group, so join soon!

The goal of the Auburn Jungle is to be loud and obnoxious for opposing teams at all times, but to remain appropriate and respectable before, during, and after the game.